Publisher's statement: Worldwide Sales Exceed 2,000,000 copies

"It is almost pathetically ironic that the average male's preoccupation with the size of his penis is nearly equaled by the prevailing female wish that penises were somewhat smaller," writes Donna Powell, endeavoring to clear up the cock size controversy. She maintains "there is no relation between the size of the penis and the ability to produce orgasm in the female." This may come as a relief to the average-hung majority of Club readers, but I doubt it will have the slightest impact on sales of pills and vacuum developers designed to enlarge the penis. Besides, my Californian friend who's been into lead weight therapy for the past year wrote to say he's finally getting results. Puts a new perspective on "coming off," doesn't it! Roger Sewell

THE HIGH PRICED SPREAD

In this era of substitutes, palliatives and artificial ingredients, it's good to know that there are still some individuals who'll settle for nothing but the best. Like this corseted beauty who's determined to spread good cheer and happy groans of epicurian delight from the larder of her large body of clients. We'd certainly say she's living proof that quality counts.

THOSE NIFTY FIFTIES

More blasts from the past from homes across the Nation: 1 and 2 found in a Milwaukee attic "bearing more than a passing resemblance to the previous occupants" according to Bob and Wilma C. 3 "My wife, circa 1959" by John L. of Westchester ("wish she looked like this in '83") and 4 "Alas, those good-time party sluts of yesteryear, wherefore have they withered?" by Cambridge, Massachusetts, "Club reader and wilting hedonist" Harry P.

EX-DORKER

For all we know, Mr Wickenden may indeed have gone through his career advocating the shoving of dorks into every known aperture. For the uninformed, we should inform Club readers that Dorking is a small English town situated in the Surrey countryside.

"DEAR CLUB,

My name is Marie Andree, and this is the story behind these pictures. Not long ago, I was telling my friend, Pierre, that I would love to be fucked by two guys simultaneously. A few days later he walked into the club where I was working and introduced me to his friend, Bill. As the weather was fine, they asked me to take the day off so that we could go for a ride in the country to take some pictures. I agreed, grabbed one of my costumes, and we were on our way. We drove for about an hour and found a deserted road with a train bridge. We stopped, I put the costume on, and they got the camera ready. They took photos of me for some time, then Pierre - seeing that I was getting hot - suggested we take a break. When we sat down beside the bridge, they started fondling my tits and cunt, investigating my most secret parts with their fingers and tongues. I tried to resist, but without much conviction. I actually wanted more - and more I got, Pierre making me bend and holding the railroad tracks, shoving his long cock into my soaking wet love-hole. Bill, meanwhile, stuck his prick in my mouth, fingerfucking my ass at the same time. I was coming like a pinball machine when my throat filled with sweet cum and my snatch overflowed. That got me so tilted that I slept all the way back to my hotel!"

NIAGARA FALLS FOR CANDY!

B.T. & COMPANY are just back from tit man's heaven deep in the heart of the frozen north. And who should they meet up at magnificent Niagara Falls, Ontario? None other than Candy Samples! As Candy put it herself, "This is the only time you'll see the 7th, 8th and 9th Wonders of the World together!" as she pointed first to the Falls and then to each of the mammoth mammals that have made her a legend in her own time.

Instead of sweltering down in Southern California, Candy and her manager, Pat, had taken off for the wilds of Canada to experience some tit tingling snow and ice. Although the winds were howling like a blizzard outside, inside the Crazy Horse Show Lounge at the King Edward Hotel, the hottest show north of the border was packing them in to see the one and only Candy Samples. Candy thought it might be a bit tame in what is generally thought of as conservative Ontario but much to her surprise and delight she found anything goes (almost!).

The Crazy Horse boasts the raunchiest live performers in the area. A real old-fashioned striptease club, it takes you back to the good 'ole days of Sergeant Preston of the Yukon. You can just imagine the miners, after a hard day in the cold, panning for gold, staggering into the local saloon and being welcomed with open tits by the lovely ladies who promise warmth and stimulation.

Present day audiences at the Crazy Horse tend to wear three piece suits as well as plaid shirts and they fill the club to standing room only even at lunch. (What a way to spend your lunch hour!) The Club runs shows from noon to 1 A.M. and you just can't find a time they aren't packed. Candy is the biggest draw the Crazy Horse has ever had - she holds the week attendance record. Candy's act seems the gamut from dainty old-fashioned white lace and petticoats, to long black and slinky punk, complete with shades, to our favorite, an S & M dominatrix number of leather and studs which, of course, includes a very functional whip. At one point in her act Candy amazes her audience by carrying a one-liter wine bottle between her massive breasts - what a support system!

One of the most attractive features of the Club is the ultimate stage, ringed on three sides by seats so close to the performers the guys in the audience get plenty of "touchy-feely." The mirrored wall at the back of the stage guarantees you won't miss any of the action. And just to prove Candy can get down with the best of them, she will throw her whip around the neck of a man near the edge of the stage and pull him ever closer to those mountains of hers until his head is completely buried in silky soft mounds of mammary. Now we know the real meaning of whiplash - insurance companies beware!

The hit of the show is the time right after Candy's stage performance when she goes into the audience to take instant pictures. Guys of all ages line up to have their picture taken with the one and only. Topless instant pictures are a first here at the Crazy Horse. We were stunned by the incredible loyalty of Candy's fans - some of whom had every photograph and film she had ever had taken. When we went back stage after the performance to chat with Candy and Pat, we gained some insight into this phenomena. Candy told us the story of one fan who had hitchhiked 400 miles in the rain and snow just to see her perform at the King Edward. At the end of the show he presented her with one perfect red rose and then hitchhiked back. He told Candy, "It was worth every minute of it - now I know you're more than a photograph - you're real."

Invariably the first question Candy is asked is "are they real?" Well, at the Crazy Horse the fellas got a chance to check it out for themselves. They left knowing the lady is carrying reality on her chest. As one guy stated, if they aren't real, apple pie isn't American." For your statistics freaks, the total poundage is over 20lbs. The right one weighs in at 10lbs. and the left at 10½lbs. Candy says the reason she's a "lefty" is that her boyfriend Pat sleeps on the left side. She also added he would be easy to recognize since he was the only man in the place with stretch marks on his mouth.

Pat then told us about the time in L.A. when Candy was supposed to jump out of a cake on a local TV show. First she came out on stage in a bikini - the producer said, "NO, this is a family show." Then she tried a one-piece suit. She still looked "too big." Finally, Candy had to wear a blouse over the one-piece before they would let her on stage. Sounds like some people just don't appreciate real talent when they see it. What deprivation!

asked Candy what part of her career she liked the best, she replied that the live performances gave her the most satisfaction. This is when she gets to meet her fans and can relate to them on a one to one basis: "Nothing is better than being able to go out and meet a fan," Candy says with a smile. She loves the immediate response - unlike photo sessions which may take months to appear in a magazine. The real turn-on comes when she takes her top off on stage, wham! She hears the yells and screams, the thundering applause - "then you know it's all worth it." This is quite a statement coming from the lady who is reported to be the most photographed nude model in the U.S. (she started modeling in 1969).

We were sorry our interview had to end. But take heart - there is a lot to look forward to - just between you and me Candy's working on her first full-length feature X-rated film (which will have a really kinky domination scene).

As our exclusive grand finale, just for her Club fans, Candy agreed to meet the challenge and have a showdown with the Falls. Neither rain, nor sleet, or snow, etc., stops the proverbial postman. Well, we were delighted to find Candy exhibiting the same dedication to her fans - under blizzardous conditions at the Falls, Candy braved the elements to give us this first ever uncoverage of the 8th and 9th Wonder of the World on top of the 7th Wonder. What a spectacle. Can you imagine what the tourists thought? We can indubitably guarantee any and all that Candy got more attention! ☒

HEADACHE SUFFERER CAN'T FIND RELIEF

As everybody knows, there's nothing worse than a splitting headache, whether caused by chronic migraines, or being tied down to a dead-end job. But one thing the modern miss should remember is that it is extremely difficult to reach into the medicine chest for the aspirin when both hands are tied to your sides of your legs. It's something to bear in mind next time you ask the boss to tie you up and come on your tits!

HOG TIED!

It's not every day that the rodeo comes to town, but as you can see, this cowpunching lady knows that having her own roundup at home can be just as much fun as the real thing! Hiho, Silver, away!

SPUNKY HOSTESS KEEPS D.C. IN STITCHES

Brandishing her infamous cat-o-nine tails is Washington's latest "hostess with the mostess" Kitty "The Whip" Moraganandrio, an ex-dominatrix who has now branded the D.C. social scene with her unique touch. Mixing champagne and cruelty — she's teaching Washington's big wheel power brokers to relax — or else!

VINYL FINALIST PULLS OUT ALL THE STOPS

When it comes to a tight fit, nothing beats the feel of skintight, shiny vinyl — preferably skintight, shiny, black vinyl. And when Gerte Grobe, a teutonic twat from Hamburg likes to walk on the wild side, she pulls out all the stops and peels into her super tight stretch vinyl, for a look guaranteed to turn heads and tighten pants — in any language!

There was I, dripping with gold and pearls and a thirty-dollar hairdo, and this little prick wouldn't so much as wink at me. It makes you wonder what a girl has to do to get a hard time these days.

COEDS COMPARE COOZE FOR COLLEGE CREDITS

It's not just another day at the student lounge when Prof. Helga Smoot's "Personal Anatomy" class gets together for its weekly luncheon seminar. More popularly known as "Comparative Cooze," or just plain "Beaver Hunt," the course is naturally designed to "get women in touch with their bodies" — which is why more men have registered for it than for any other course in campus history!

ART SCHOOL PROVIDES MODEL WITH INSTRUCTION BOOK

Learning art at home may seem easy, but as any budding Picasso knows, drawing the human figure is slightly difficult. That's why the Line-o-Sight Art Correspondence School has begun sending a live female model, along with their famous "Get A Head Start In Art" Instruction Kit, to every one of their correspondent students.

SKI LODGE OFFERS SOMETHING TO SKI FOR

With business in a tailspin due to the lightest snowfall in 20 years, Maine's Bnarpatch Snow Resort isn't about to pack it in. To induce ski freaks to at least hang about the lodge and sip cognac and hot chocolate, these entrepreneurial owners have added an attraction to the package. Designed to keep skiers cozy and warm, these Skibunnies almost make seasoned skiers hope for no snow all year 'round!

JEWELS OF THE ROAD

When hitchhiking in Gafia, a tiny hamlet in the south of France, best be on your guard, because there is no hitchhiking in Gafia, and the authorities take a dim view of tourists who openly flout the law. If caught with their thumbs out, hitchhikers are dealt with by the town's special deputy for hitchhikers — a stern disciplinarian who lurks by the side of the road, ready, willing and able to thoroughly spank anyone who gets out of line, while just passing through!

Is poison gas back? The United States State Department alleges that it's being used by the Soviets and their allies in Southeast Asia and Afghanistan. ONE PLANE CARRIED red gas and the other yellow. Those near where the chemical rockets exploded fell unconscious immediately, with bleeding from the mouth and nose. They hit our area with gas attacks for three days. Seventy-five people died immediately. Five hundred were very sick and most died within a short time. Soon after death, yellow water flowed from their bodies."

"In March 1977, two helicopters and a small jet sprayed our entire village. The rain came from pipes attached to the helicopter. Many people died. I look up and get 'rain' in my eyes. Then I couldn't see anything, pain in my eyes, headache, blind. I fall down for more than 1 hour. I cannot get up. Everyone have diarrhea with blood. My son, who was four, get diarrhea with a lot of blood, vomit, get unconscious, and then die the next day."

"At Ban Don (Communist) soldiers give salt to the people which poison them and infect their mouths. One man was so infected with the salt that it ate his mouth and his nose away and you could see into his mouth by looking through the bridge of his nose."

An emaciated 13-year-old girl sits woodenly with an IV in her skeletal arm. She says she was gassed in January 1979, while working with other children in rice fields. A helicopter had flown in low, bombs exploding, making a whitish-grey fog. She was knocked to the ground, vomiting blood. She has suffered severe coughing, with bloody sputum since the gassing, has severe pains in her joints, and trouble walking. She says, "I feel foolish in my mind since the gassing."

The use of poison gas represents one of the darker sagas of human history. The years 1914-1918 were among the most destructive of human life; yet, that sacrifice of millions brought no lasting peace. Of the elaborate structures for world security, and the pacts outlawing war and controlling armaments negotiated after World War I, little remains. Today, evidence of chemical and toxin warfare has accumulated to the point where the international community can no longer ignore the challenge. . . . Lethal chemical weapons are . . . in use in Laos, Kampuchea, and Afghanistan.

These charges, hotly denied by the Soviet Union, have proved controversial. Claims and counterclaims abound, providing an eerie sensation of déjà vu, resurrecting the unholy spirit of the '40's and '50's when each superpower cast filthy charges against the other, while themselves racing secretly faster into new gas and biological warfare research. Still, the circumstantial evidence that the State Department presents is so abundant that, on moralistic grounds, it cannot be ignored despite obstacles and repercussions.

German scientist Fritz Haber, the "father" of chemical warfare, once said, "In no future war will the military be able to ignore poison gas. It is a higher form of killing."

The State Department's Smoking Gun

Proving Soviet guilt has been no piece of cake. The exotic, poorly understood poisons allegedly being used today are found in small quantities in nature. Explains Dr. Matthew Meselson, Professor of Biochemistry at Harvard University, "We simply do not know enough about the natural occurrence of mycotoxins (the poisons allegedly used) in Southeast Asia. . . . We do not have any control studies. . . . In the scientific literature. . . there is. . . not even a single study of whether these mycotoxins do or do not occur naturally in Southeast Asia. We do know. . . that in laboratory tests. . . the mycotoxins reported are produced in substantial concentrations under warm conditions by. . . the fungus fusarium. Moreover, there are published reports of natural outbreaks in Japan and India of. . . the. . . toxins at warm times of the year."

Nevertheless, the US isn't isolated in its allegations. The Canadian government's own investigation, concluded in August 1982, reports that "chemical and biological agents are being used in Southeast Asia."

Furthermore, reports from Afghan refugees in Pakistan have led many to conclude that the odds are about 50-50 that lethal agents have indeed been used by Soviet forces trying to squelch the Afghan resistance. According to Matthew Nimetz, Under Secretary of State for Security Assistance, Science and Technology, "The Soviets have deployed chemical defense battalions, standard in all Soviet divisions, with three of the operational divisions in Afghanistan. Soviet troops in the Kabul area have been seen carrying what appear to be gas masks in canvas cases. The Soviets may also have established decontamination stations in northeast Afghanistan. The presence of these chemical and defense battalions and stations. . . does not confirm the actual use of toxic chemicals; however, such units would be essential for ground force operations on terrain contaminated with toxic agents."

There are unconfirmed reports that Soviet aircraft dropped chemical bombs on resistance strongholds in three eastern provinces even before the 1979 invasion! Earliest reports were in August-September 1979, where chemical agents were allegedly used in the Panjshir Valley, northeast of Kabul, against nationalist forces attempting to interdict the Salang highway. Since the invasion, Afghan nationalist forces and refugees tell of Soviet use of chemical bombs against their strongholds in Badakhshan and Konarha Provinces, and near Feyzabad and Jalalabad; December 27, 1979, Soviet MIGs reportedly dropped chemical bombs; similar chemical attacks reportedly occurred in January 1980, against nationalist forces near Feyzabad and Jalalabad, in the Hazarajat area of Bamian Province, and in Takhar Province, all in eastern Afghanistan.

Building a Case Against The Soviets

Symptoms described by alleged victims were so numerous and sundry that, at first, they defied diagnosis. What on earth could cause bloody diarrhea, nausea, labored breathing, lowered white blood cell level, dizziness, seizures, and skin rashes and Bizarre tales of sick Hmong were initially pooh-poohed by experts, who chalked them up to anti-communist propaganda; but, Hmong came into refugee camps telling the same story, over and over: yellow rain dropped on villages by aircraft sickened people, animals, and ravaged vegetation. These tales began to make Ed McWilliams and Lieutenant Colonel Charles Dennison Lane uneasy. Both men, assigned to the US Embassy in Thailand, asked the Hmong to bring samples of this weird yellow rain from Laos.

In late 1980, the two approached Dr. Amos Townsend, the International Rescue Committee official aiding refugees in Thailand, and asked him to help prove the chemical warfare enigma. Townsend agreed, and obtained as many samples of tainted Laotian leaves as he could.

In 1981, the first hard data of chemical attacks elsewhere in Indochina was put together.

In the meantime, Sharon Watson, an Army Medical Intelligence and Information Agency toxicologist, conducted tests on yellow rain samples. Watson knew her stuff about mycotoxins, fungal poisons which attack humans and animals. After studying the data, Watson got a hunch that symptoms exhibited by alleged victims in Southeast Asia and Afghanistan were identical to those known to occur after eating grain infected with a fungus called Fusarium. This fungus produces mycotoxins as by-products. One poisonous family of mycotoxins is named trichothecenes.

Watson then asked Chester Mirocha, a plant pathologist at the University of Minnesota, to help with her yellow rain hunch. Mirocha knew Fusarium. He had studied naturally-occurring Fusarium toxins from the USSR in the '70's, and discovered a lot of a lethal Trichothecene toxin named T-2 in the samples from Russia. Watson persuaded Mirocha to study samples from Cambodia, which were supposedly gathered from vegetation sprayed during a recent chemical warfare episode. Mirocha found three deadly Trichothecene mycotoxins in the Cambodian samples: T-2 toxin, deoxynivalenol, and diacetoxyscirpenol. In '81, scientists at Edgewood Arsenal tested three other samples from Cambodia and Laos, and found two of the three toxins that Mirocha had independently discovered in his samples!

On the strength of this and other data, the State Department issued a report in March, 1982, formally charging the Soviet bloc with waging biological and chemical warfare. The report claimed that there is hard proof that "tens of thousands of unsophisticated and defenseless peoples have, for a period of years, been subjected to a campaign of chemical attacks."

An update of this report issued November 1982 concluded:

"Reports of chemical attacks from February through October 1982 indicate that Soviet forces continue their selective use of chemicals against the resistance in Afghanistan. Moreover, new evidence collected in '82 reinforces the belief that lethal chemical agents were used on the Afghan resistance from '79 to '81. Physical samples from Afghanistan also provide new evidence of mycotoxin use."

"Continued analysis of prior data and newly acquired information about Soviet mycotoxin research and development, chemical warfare training, the presence of Soviet chemical warfare advisers in Laos and Vietnam, and the presence of the same unusual tricothecene toxins in samples collected from all three countries reconfirm the earlier conclusions of the March '82 report."

Jumping The Gun?

Nevertheless, this case has proven highly controversial. A group of United Nations experts found that it could neither verify nor refute US and Canadian charges that Soviet bloc troops have used poison gas in Southeast Asia. The UN report notes further that "While the group could not state that these allegations had been proven, nevertheless it could not disregard the circumstantial consequently the (UN) group was unable to detect (at the time the interviewing was done) signs and symptoms which would be suggestive of exposure to chemical warfare agents;" moreover, the UN relates, blood and urine tests performed on straggling refugees who claimed they'd trudged through fields of toxic "yellow rain" three weeks earlier "yielded no significant abnormalities." The UN team spoke with doctors in refugee camps, and none said they had "come across cases which could be attributed to chemical agents."

The UN investigators noted that they'd been given some powder, a leaf, and a stem that were allegedly doused with "yellow evidence suggestive of the possible use of some sort of toxic chemical substance in some instances."

The UN agrees that refugees from Laos and Cambodia, they interviewed, "related stories similar to those appearing" in documents submitted by the US; however, the UN adds, qualifying this, "all the cases interviewed related alleged chemical attacks which occurred several months earlier, and rain." However, no conclusions one way or another could be drawn from the samples, the report says, because there's no way to determine where the samples came from. The chairman of the UN group, Maj. General Esmat A al-Ezz, an Egyptian physician and specialist in chemical and radiological defense, told the New York Times that the leaf and stem samples had been given to the UN team by an American working for a voluntary agency that coordinates medical care in Bangkok, an anonymous note was attached to the sample, and the powder was given to them by a refugee.

The UN visited three Thai camps from October 31 to November 10, 1981, interviewing 28 refugees and three doctors. Their report points out that an adequate determination of whether poisonous gases had definitely been used "would require timely access to areas of alleged use." This access, unfortunately, had been denied them, and these experts believe the issue will never be resolved until they can visit actual sites in Cambodia, Laos, and Afghanistan where chemical attacks are said to have occurred.

But, the Laotian Government rejected this UN request, and while Pakistan did put out the welcome mat for UN experts, its letter of acceptance arrived too late for this UN report. Cambodia presents a special problem because the guerilla war there is still going on full blast. Poison gas attacks are rumored to have occurred in an area contested by the forces of the dictator who murdered countless hordes of his own people, Pol Pot, against the regime installed by Vietnam and backed by the Soviets. Pol Pot's forces are still recognized as Cambodia's legitimate Government by the UN; nevertheless, the UN didn't ask Pol Pot for permission to enter as "There was some question of the security of the (UN) group" during the ongoing hostilities.

An updated edition of the UN report in December 1982, is also inconclusive; however, it notes auspiciously, it "could not disregard the circumstantial evidence suggestive of possible use of some sort of toxic chemical substances."

State Department Criticism

The US also has its critics of State Department claims. Dr. Meselson, for instance, says, "There are some very serious questions about the adequacy of the evidence." Meselson's primary criticisms are that there is a lack of reliable sampling and control methods, uncertainty as to what constitutes a lethal dose of the trichothecene toxin, and the US Government's use of what he considers inconclusive evidence to support sweeping conclusions. Meselson doesn't doubt the honesty of scientists who support State Department charges, but he insists that too many unanswered questions exist concerning authenticity of the samples.

Dr. Meselson points out that "We know very little about the normal occurrence of trichothecene mycotoxins in the tropics.

While learning more, we should avoid hasty assertions that the trichothecenes detected in Southeast Asia cannot be of normal occurrence . . . There are serious questions as to whether any of the mycotoxins . . . particularly if disseminated in coarse particles or droplets . . . would cause the rapid and massive hemorrhage and death . . .

And the US isn't exactly lily-white in regard to its own use of outlawed poisonous weapons in the not-too-distant past. Seagrave points to the massive US use of chemical defoliants in Vietnam, and a half-baked plot to spritz LSD on the Viet Cong. Then there was the '68 announcement by Nixon. Saying the US was banning "forever" offensive biological weapons and limiting chemical research to defensive weapons. Development went on nevertheless, sometimes cynically called "cancer research," and the public and press experienced a phony sense of well-being derived from the delusion that biological weapons and gas warfare were horrors of a hellish past.

Getting more into the line of thinking, an outline of a proposed international convention that would provide a "complete and verifiable ban on chemical weapons was introduced by the US, February 10, 1983, at a 40-nation disarmament conference in Geneva. The suggested convention would call for destruction of existing stockpiles of chemical weapons and means of production in stages over a decade. Louis Fields, Jr. of the US, remarked to conference participants that the first priority was to agree on a "systematic international on-site inspection arrangement to safeguard the suggested ban." Before drafting of an actual treaty text, he continued, "an acceptable verification and compliance framework must first be negotiated."

In the meantime, if charges against the Soviet Union are true, do little children suffer? Schoolgirls of Kabul who survived gas attacks in classrooms say poison gas that killed many of their friends smelled sweet, like apples. Says Karen McKay, "Forty years ago, the world knew that the Holocaust was underway. Countless reports, mountains of irrefutable evidence, eyewitness reports, maps, documents, and even photographs from inside Auschwitz told of a story too terrible to be believed . . . and, it was not . . . Rational men denied it, saying there was no real proof, no scientific proof that millions of human beings were being slaughtered, liquidated in a cold and deliberate and efficient manner. It was something no rational person could believe."

Today, is another horror too terrible to believe being committed against the people of Laos, Cambodia, and Afghanistan? ☐

Clearing up the Cock-Size Controversy

From time to time a male first learns what his hard-on is for, and until he reaches the age when an erection is a fond memory, he feels a constant and often disquieting concern regarding the size of his cock. But honestly, an oversized penis can be irritating and distracting, gagging during fellatio, and a real pain the ass during anal sex. The general consensus of opinion, moreover, among female partners is that the average erect penis size of six inches is fine.

Written by Donna Powell with Illustration by David O'Connor.

AS DR. DAVID REUBEN states in his book – Everything You Always Wanted To Know About Sex: "How big is a normal penis is the question of the century. Every male, virtually from the moment he is aware of this marvelous organ, is plagued by this question. Rarely does one encounter a gentleman who is satisfied with the size of his phallus. Even those endowed with obviously outsize organs yearn for more – it could be just a little bit longer..."

Psychiatrist Gifford Chase, author of Sex In The Fast Lane, is convinced that if the majority of males were given ten wishes which would automatically be granted, one of those requests would be for a larger, longer, thicker penis. "There are two possessions which males the world over seem never to have enough of: money and penis size; both are unquestionably equated with masculine power. Older men gaze with greater chagrin at the wrinkles in their penises than at the wrinkles in their faces. Ponce de Leon's search for the fountain of youth was probably a quest for a large and unceasingly erect penis. It is almost pathetically ironic that the average male's preoccupation with the size of his penis is nearly equaled by the prevailing female wish that penises were somewhat smaller."

The above observations notwithstanding, some females actually do prefer males who possess more than their fair share of chunky penis meat. Just as some males are turned-on by exceptionally large breasts, some females possess a similar kind of fetish for John Holmes-sized pricks. Physically speaking, a large cock can contact a larger clitoral area and cause some females correspondingly greater pleasure – particularly when the female's clitoral glans are disadvantageously buried. But most authorities feel that a female's preference for a large penis is psychologically motivated; she likes large cocks because they seem to be giving her more (in the same acquisitional sense that a larger paycheck might delight her). Some sexologists are convinced that females who dote on oversized dicks are simply responding to the general and obvious male attitude regarding the desirability and advantage of being "well-hung." From grade-schooler's to grandma's, females unendingly hear males allude to large penises as something outstanding and precious; little wonder that some easily deceived ladies have fallen prey to that penis myth.

And myth it is! As Reuben states, "There is no relation whatsoever between the size of the penis – length, diameter, or any other measurement – and the ability to produce sexual orgasm in the female." In sex, as in every artistic endeavor, it is quality not quantity that counts. And "quality" does not refer to the ability to move the penis in some magical fashion, but to refrain from coming too quickly; the ordinary "ins and outs" of an ordinary-sized cock will almost inevitably engender a climax in the female if the male does not ejaculate prematurely (a subject we will pursue later). The old cliché – "It's not size that counts but how you use it" – is not strictly true. There are only so many variations of possible penis movement; most movement is confined to simple thrusts and extractions

AN AVERAGE LENGTHENED PENIS HAS A DISTINCT ADVANTAGE IN CONSTANT CLITORAL CONTACT

(which is all that is necessary if those "movements" are carried on long enough to thoroughly stimulate her clitoris). Artistry in fucking is almost directly synonymous with the fuckee's endurance and restraint, not to any great skill the male employs when using his tool.

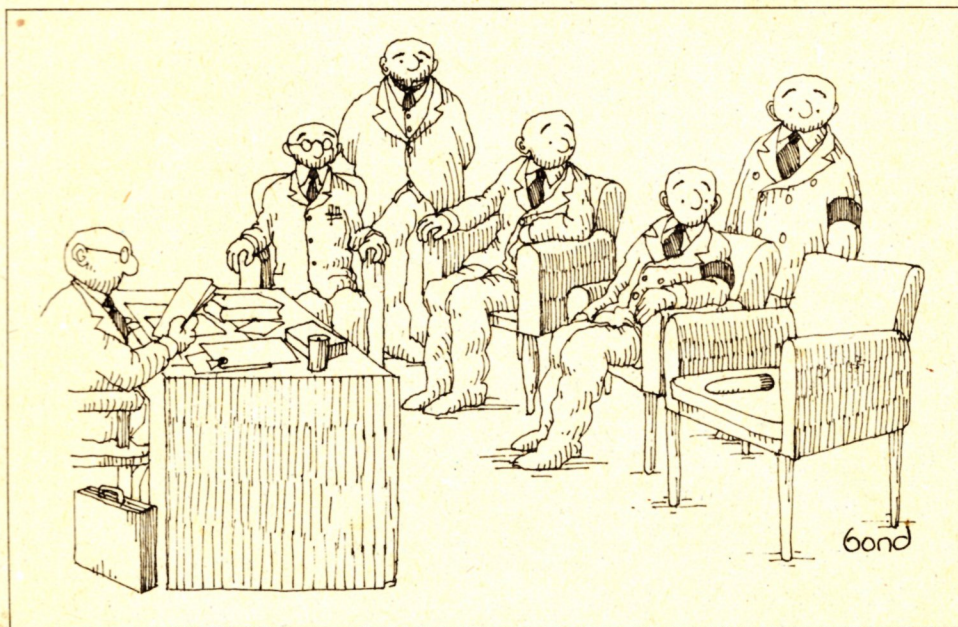

The vast majority of females everywhere prefer an average-sized cock for all forms of sexual connection. A two inch erect penis would sufficiently (and perhaps even are few females who are not soon either desensitized or pained by the excessive frictions and deep penetrations of an overly large or long male member.

Masters & Johnson's investigations proved that males who possess average or smaller than average-sized penises in the soft (or flaccid) state will often double their penis length during full erection - while a large flaccid penis may only expand one-fourth of its length during full erection. The researchers found that some males who own particularly large penises gain little or nothing in length from the flaccid state to full erection. It was also learned (most importantly) that males owning average-sized penises were more successfully able to maintain erections than males with extremely large penises (the larger penis may receive less blood compaction). Dr. Hartmann's research has disclosed that males who possess "oversized penises" tend to feel even more embarrassed and inhibited by their irregularity than males equipped with extremely small penises.

For centuries males have employed superiorly) contact and eroticize any human female's clitoral glands. "An average lengthened penis (or even shorter than average) actually has a distinct advantage in the constant clitoral contact it can provide," affirm Masters & Johnson in Human Sexual Response. The eminent sex-researcher William Hartmann believes that a long thick penis causes more discomfort in the majority of females than an average size or small penis; as a consequence an average-sized or small penis has a much higher ratio of success in evoking female orgasm. Many females are subjectively excited and/or aroused by the impressive sight of a large penis. But there multifarious inventions and stretching methods in the ardent hope of enlarging their penises.

However, learning to control premature ejaculation can do far more for your sex life and for the pleasure of your female(s). Dr. Arnold Kegel, a Los Angeles urologist and gynecologist, discovered a simple technique which will enable any male to soon refrain completely from "coming" before he wants to. Dr. Kegel's discovery came when he was treating several women for inability to hold their water; they were urinating during sleep and at other more embarrassing times. Kegel instructed them to forcibly tighten or flex the low pelvic muscle which holds back urine (pubococcygeus muscle) several times a day. And not only did the ladies establish new control over their urine, most of them commented to Kegel that their sex lives had gotten better, with more explosive orgasms. Dr. Kegel invented a machine for women to "flex" against, fitting into their vaginas a small pneumatic cone attached to a dial that measured the strength of the "squeeze." Kegel shared both his new technique and his machine with his fellow urologists and gynecologists, who spread the word that a female's orgasms can be strengthened if she does "Kegel Exercises" to build up her PCs (short for pubococcygeus muscle). For many years everyone simply ignored the fact that MALES HAVE PCs ALSO, and that a powerful PC not only brings on a potent orgasm no matter what sex you are ... a strong PC is a male's best prevention against premature ejaculation. If a male will strongly "flex" his PC muscle around one-hundred times a day - which is the same "flex" he performs to expel his last drops of urine after urinating - he will soon find that the "quality" of his fucking has increased far more than if he had merely been concerned with increasing the size of his (already sufficiently large) cock. The male will find himself easily able to "hold back," he will also experience more explosive orgasms when he does come.

Psychiatrists, sexologists and other authorities are at a loss to explain why almost all adult males are concerned about the size of their cocks. Some feel that grown males remember their childhood observances of their fathers' penises and that the tremendous disparity (then) causes them to feel inferior (or inadequate) for the rest of their lives. Authorities are in agreement, however, that most males display a sort of "pecker-order" or instant "size-up" reaction when, for any reason, they view one another nude for the first time. Dr. Reuben's comments on this automatic "size-up" tendency are both perceptive and humorous.

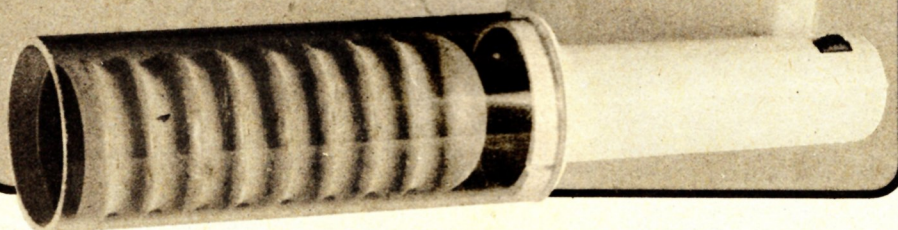

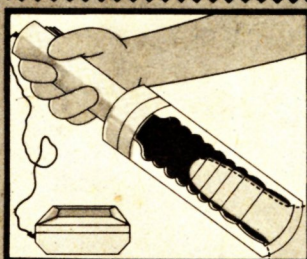

"This preoccupation with size leads to some unusual behavior. Whenever two nude men encounter each other for the first time, in a public shower, a country club locker room, a YMCA swimming pool, their eyes go first to each other's penises. Rapidly, sometimes almost imperceptibly, they measure the organ, compare it with their own, then continue with the matter at hand. Even in a public washroom, standing at the urinal, eyes dart swiftly to organs, the mental micrometer steps off the distance and makes the comparative calculation. In more than one private club the management has thoughtfully installed large magnifying

In the penis Olympics no man wins. Those who spy larger cocks than their own are chagrined; their fears are confirmed. A man whose equipment is the most outstanding in the locker room that day receives scant consolation. With each new contest he will be pitted against new and unmeasured competition. There is not one single sexual advantage in possessing a larger than average prick. A female's pleasure center lies close to the surface; the longer the penis the less clitoral contact she receives. Also, there is a growing body of evidence that, with age, a large penis is more likely to fail to erect fully than a smaller penis. The impotency rate is significantly higher in males who own large penises due to the simple physiological fact that a large penis contains more blood vessels which can incur circulatory problems. The long and short of the age-old penis-size controversy is that inches definitely don't count whenever a cock and a clitoris come together for the singular purpose of sexual pleasure. What you've got is what she gets and, that's all she wants. ☑

Sexual tensions do build up, of course, in all of us. Everyone will not deny that. What often is not readily understood is that relieving one's own tensions is a most normal and healthy pastime. Allowing fantasies to entrain our thoughts to titillating new highs is the first plateau. After that, anything goes and whatever feels good should be done. Masturbation is not a no-no or a curse which some resort to because they claim they don't get enough. Instead, it is a kind of informal, most personal sexual education. Familiarity with the feel, smell and sexual organs themselves, and realizing one's own sexual processes and arousal patterns is a mature way to engage in sexual giving and taking with a partner. If imbalance occurs, it doesn't matter. Sharing foreplay and experiencing the other's highs and lows become so much more meaningful if self physical awareness is possessed. Giving myself sexual pleasure, I feel, is a natural part of enjoyable human sexuality. I have a cache of toys—dildos, mirrors, vaginal balls, harnesses, and vibrators for both of my salacious holes. It's amazing how little anal sex is enjoyed. I love it! My collection of videocassettes would straighten any cock and leave any gaping cunt dripping. I am my own home entertainment center and a very satisfied one at that! ☺

RUBBER RITES

Rubber features prominently in many a guy's recollection of his early years and especially in his memories of traumatic experiences in the nursery, clinic and hospital. Like an inoculation, a small, measured dose of a minor fetish can stave off a major, fatal encounter fetish. Written by Karl Steiner.

THE BEST REMEMBERED rubber associated events are usually those related to toilet training under female authority, which explains why a whole lot of guys develop into fetishistic, rubber masochists in adult life.

Let me outline the psychological process more fully. Freud said: Give me the child until he's six years old and I will give you the man.

Momentous words! There are five elements, all fairly trivial – and wholly natural – in isolation, that in combination are likely to result in a male infant's growing up to be a fetishist and masochist. These elements are:

1: Subjection to stern female authority, be this from mother, aunt, schoolteacher, nurse or whomever,

2: Subjection to any form of ritual: diaper changing, being given an enema or some over-dramatized punishment,

3: Contact with any material or artifact that has sensual connotations, pleasant or unpleasant: rubber, leather straps, enema pumps, whips, canes, etc.

4: Conditions involving nakedness and helplessness,

5: A taste of anxiety, especially if caused by a threat of punishment for masturbation or toilet-related accidents such as bed-wetting.

Of these, the most significant in the creation of a fetishist is No. 3; in the creation of a masochist, No. 5. But all fetishists are masochists to some degree, for they deliberately put themselves into emotional, if not physical, bondage to their fetish. And of the almost limitless variety of fetishists the most masochistic tends to be the guy that makes a god out of rubber.

Kids are usually secretive about their fears, particularly those that revolve around parts and functions of the body they have misguidedly been told are "dirty." To the infant, rubber seems to be closely associated with these parts and functions; and there's also much confusion in the immature mind between pissing and shitting and the delights of juvenile eroticism.

This isn't surprising. If the Almighty Architect hadn't intended us to relish a modicum of scatological experience, he'd not have sited the sewage works in the playground. Moreover, the processes of waste elimination and orgasm (even the juvenile kind) all involve a slow build-up of tension to the point of non-endurance, followed by a sudden and wholly gratifying release.

When two events repeatedly occur close together, the mind eventually tends to equate these events no matter how tenuous the coupling really is. The untutored but highly impressionable mind of an infant is very agile at equation making, and here are three of the commonest and most crucial products in the present context: RUBBER = TOILET FUNCTIONS; RUBBER = ANXIETY; TOILET FUNCTIONS = SEX

These derive from the kid's own experience, but it's not long before he extrapolates two further equations of even greater import:

RUBBER = SEX; ANXIETY = SEX

And there, my friends, you have the psychological mechanism that produces the fetishistic rubber masochist, for the preferred mental state of every masochist is one of anxiety; and rubber is just about the most perfect material for making a guy anxious, as this letter to the Steiner Bureau illustrates:

You used to write a lot about rubber sex in the early days of Club magazine, but the topic's been badly neglected for several years now. This has been a big disappointment to me because I've been crazy about rubber for most of my life — since I was about two years old, in fact, and I'm now 37.

My wife knows about my love for rubber and the things that go with it, but she can't understand my lusts. She tries to go along with me up to a point, but plainly does this out of a sense of duty. Because she'll not enter into the spirit of the thing, I'm always short on gratification. She refuses to play pissing games, let alone anything more adventurous, like IBS.

I know my fantasies could be realized because I was once lucky enough to have a session with a genuine Rubber Mistress. It was an out-of-this-world experience and one that I'm craving to repeat. Unfortunately, the lady in question now lives in Canada, so I'm reduced to do-it-yourself techniques except for what my wife is able to do.

I guess there must be thousands of other rubber fans out there, male and female, but how does a guy like me contact them? Any advice you can give will be most welcome, and I'd sure appreciate a Sex Probe interview if you think my case interesting enough for your readers.

Alan D., Shreveport, La.

Looking at my records showed that Alan D.'s disappointment over lack of coverage of his favorite topic was understandable, as there hadn't been an in-depth piece on rubber fetishism since my Rubber Soul in Vol. 1, Issue 4. So I wrote the guy and fixed an interview. Never let Club be accused of ignoring the interests of erotic minorities!

Here's a condensed transcript of our conversation:

KARL STEINER: Tell me more about the early days of your rubber fetishism. You mentioned clinical treatment in your letter.

ALAN D.: Yes, I suffered hell from constipation as a kid. My mother took me to the clinic to have an enema. My earliest recollection is of being laid out naked and screaming on a red rubber sheet. I recall the color distinctly although I was only two at the time.

K.S.: Most people do have trivial details like that etched into their brains. Please continue.

A.D.: Well, one nurse held me down while another stuck a rubber tube up my ass. I howled like a banshee but clearly remember my cock stiffening up. The whole affair terrified the shit out of me, yet I kind of enjoyed it in a curious way. I thought of it as "nice-nasty." I imagined I was unique in actually liking something nasty.

K.S.: Most kids believe that about their innermost thoughts and fantasies. It's part of the reason why juniors are so secretive: they're scared of being regarded as different from the rest.

A.D.: I guess I was about sixteen. My pa had bought me a tea-chest full of assorted boy's magazines at an auction. Naturally, I was delighted by the gift. But I was even more thrilled — bowled right over in fact — when I found some old copies of a fetishist magazine at the bottom of the chest. A large part of this issue was given over to readers' letters and I can't tell you how excited — and relieved — I was to read all those letters about rubber sex. Finding out that other people actually did the things I'd been dreaming about for so long was really marvelous. And you can imagine my excitement when I discovered you could actually buy the sort of bizarre equipment I'd believed only existed in my mind. It seemed too good to be true and I was happier than I'd been in all my life.

K.S.: Tell me about the fantasies you'd developed at that stage. I take it the process of evolution began right after your first visit to the clinic. Right?

A.D.: Yes. I used to dream up new ideas every night as I played with my cock. For a while I didn't get very far from what had actually happened at the clinic, except that I imagined the nurses wearing rubber uniforms. But I eventually started elaborating on the treatment I was given. I fantasized about more rubber tubes - lots of them, into my mouth, nostrils and cock as well as up my ass. Then I had the idea of being completely covered in rubber, with specially designed items fitting tightly over my face and over my cock and balls. I imagined myself like a rubber mummy with tubes sticking out from all over me and connecting to all sorts of weird apparatus. I'm not sure how old I was when I first hit on the idea of having female piss pumped into my bowels, bladder and belly - around twelve, I guess. But the tubing business has always been very important to me. It still is.

WILL IT FLOW BY GRAVITY OR BE PUMPED?

K.S.: Most rubber masochists feel the same way. It's all down to the anxiety factor. If there's one piece of equipment that makes a masochist exquisitely anxious it's a length of rubber tubing in the hands of an inventive dominatrix. It raises so many worrying questions in the guy's mind. Into which orifices will the ends be thrust? Into whose orifices? Will one end go into an orifice while the other is fixed to some apparatus? What sort of apparatus? What will flow through the tube? A gas or a fluid? Piss maybe? Or a female feces/urine emulsion? Will it be heated or chilled? Will it flow by gravity or be pumped? In which direction will it flow? It's fascinating how such a vast edifice of sexually oriented anxiety can be built on a simple foundation like an enema in a kids' clinic.

A.D.: It seems like you're looking right into my brain now, doc. That's the way I feel about rubber tubing ritual. I didn't think anyone else would understand.

K.S.: We're dealing with a very complex subject here, but let's not get bogged down in the philosophy of it. Tell me about the relationship with your wife. Just how far will she go in helping you with your fantasies?

A.D.: About ten yards along a hundred-mile road. She doesn't mind my dressing up in kinky gear and jerking off as I parade in front of her. But there's no feedback, and this naturally detracts from my pleasure. She's also willing to wrap me in rubber, sit bare-assed on my face and bring me off by working my cock through the latex sheeting. But she only does it to please me. She gets nothing out of it herself and simply can't understand what rubber means to me.

K.S.: Have you tried to explain it to her?

A.D.: More times than I can remember. She listens okay and even asks questions, but she always ends up by saying, "I'm sorry, Alan, but I'm just not made that way," or words to the same effect. Of course, I can see her side of it. I happen to hate cheese, and nothing on earth would alter my opinion of its taste and smell.

K.S.: I'm glad you've not used duress to get her to give you what you want. A whole lot of marriages have gone bust that way. Tell me, what exactly would you like your wife to do?

A.D.: I'd love her to go the whole hog. I want to experience everything rubber sex has to offer. You know, "golden showers," IBS, and that sort of thing.

K.S.: In your letter you mentioned a session with a genuine Rubber Mistress. Did she indulge you in those particular delights?

A.D.: I'll say she did! A whole lot more too. It was really incredible. I wouldn't have believed such things were possible if I hadn't experienced them myself. There was a kind of electrical rubber ritual that was positively uncanny.

K.S.: Tell me about it.

A.D.: Well, I contacted this Mistress Margot through an ad in a local paper. She said she was a trained nurse and was offering colonic irrigation. I went to her for an enema and soon found out she was providing other services. She had a fantastic Temple of Rubber and employed a teenaged Rubber Maid named Denise. Seeing that Temple blew my mind and I booked a full session the following weekend.

K.S.: Was it expensive?

A.D.: Damned expensive, but worth every cent. After plenty of the toilet stuff I was fully rubberized for several hours in a double-skinned occlusion suit. My head was converted into a faceless sphere of clinical mask, tubing and valves. Eventually Margot instructed Denise to strip me of all the gear as quick as possible, leaving my helmet till last. When my helmet did come off I was absolutely amazed by what I saw.

K.S.: You'd been unable to see up to that point?

A.D.: Yes. My breathing had been controlled too. I'd been drawing breath through tubes connected to an Aroma Casket filled with Margot's shit, and there was a drip-feed of her piss connected to my bag. The lady was wonderfully well equipped. She had a terrific range of surgical apparatus and genuinely had been trained as a nurse.

K.S.: Just as well by the sound of it! But please proceed.

A.D.: Well, the Temple was in pitch darkness except for a ghostly phosphorescent glow all around my naked body. The light seemed to come from my flesh itself. In this weird illumination, Denise rubbed my prick into peak erection. It only took her a few seconds because I was as hot as hell and my gonads were on a hair-trigger. Denise moved aside and Margot came and stood over me. Although the light was now fading a bit I could see she was holding a slender metal rod in her hand. It was like a wand. She slowly brought the tip of the rod close to my knob, and when the gap was down to about a half-inch there was a sharp crack and a vivid blue spark flashed between the metal and my cock. The sensation was brief but so intense that it triggered off an ejaculation that felt bigger and stronger than any I'd ever had. It felt like I was shooting the whole of my body out of my prick. Unfortunately, I wasn't able to see the jism spouting because the glow round my body switched off completely the moment the spark appeared. God, it was uncanny! Have you ever heard of anything like that, doc?

K.S.: Yes, it's known as "coming in a flash." Seriously though, it's a phenomenon pretty well known among rubberists that go in for prolonged occlusion rites.

A.D.: Like I said, I'm not a scientifically minded guy. Can you explain what happened?

I told Alan D. that the effects he'd experienced were caused by a massive build-up of static accumulated during several hours of total insulation in rubber.

No doubt Denise had worn rubber gloves when she'd stripped him and worked his cock; and no doubt he'd remained lying on latex sheets after the removal of his suit and helmet. It was only when Margot, presumably ungloved and standing on the floor, brought a metal rod close to his penis that the static was discharged and run to earth. Ejaculation apart, the same result would have been obtained had the metal been brought close to any other part of his anatomy.

Committed rubberists always stress the sense of great well-being that comes with prolonged occlusion. Some ascribe this partly to the containment of the body's natural force-field, or aura, which is continuously dissipated under normal conditions.

Too fanciful? I think not. Recent work done in Germany in connection with the body's aura and with sensory deprivation has provided some fascinating results. Briefly, the findings are as follows:

If the body's force-field is contained by total insulation, and the senses of sight and hearing cut off while the closely linked senses of smell and taste are provided with unusually potent stimuli (such as the urine and feces of a beautiful woman), then the sense of touch frequently becomes so enhanced that, after a few hours under these conditions, a guy may be brought to instant ejaculation by the briefest and lightest touch on the glans of his penis. Likewise, a female may be sent into immediate orgasm by nothing more than the light passage of a fingertip across one of her nipples. I hope all those cynics that ridicule the techniques and pleasures of rubber sex will now feel less inclined to scoff!

Understandably, Alan D. was yearning for further rubber sex experiences of the caliber he'd enjoyed with Mistress Margot, and he implored me to help him towards this end. He also wanted to know how he might obtain more recondite types of rubber gear, especially tubed and valved submission helmets, so that he could improve the quality of his auto-erotic sessions.

It was easy enough to satisfy him on the latter count, but I warned him of the dangers inherent in sophisticated techniques of auto-eroticism. It's all too easy for a guy to suffocate or choke on his own vomit.

I also did what I could regarding his other request by providing information concerning an international organization and correspondence club that exist to further the interests of rubber and leather fetishists; but at the time of writing I've not heard whether he has enjoyed any success.

If you would like to be the subject for a Sex Probe, please say so when you write to the Steiner Bureau with your problem. ☐

After the Party's over...

MISTRESS CANDICE

From time to time Club is most fortunate to contact and interview people who shun from divulging their formulas for success or expounding on the basic principles of their real make-up. Mistress Candice, the Supreme Goddess of Female Domination, "opens up" for a delving exposé of herself, beliefs, subjects, and how or why it all happens. Words and Photographs by David Christopher.

and need to service me in whatever way that I deem necessary. And I would add there are probably many more who would love the opportunity to worship me in person, but are rather shy about their feelings and as a result worship me from afar through magazines, videos, films, etc."

Club: "What is it as a Female Dominant and Goddess that you want to teach men and women?"

Candice: "I hope to show women that they should use their sensuality and their minds. To be able to feel secure enough in themselves to be able to make a man melt at the sight of them. I want women to take a good look at themselves and be proud of who they are. Men on the other hand should learn that their place is to be used by

I APPROACH THE entrance of the modest premises of the renown Female Dominatrix, Mistress Candice, in quite a state of anxiety of what to expect. Would she come to greet me like she looked in all those spectacular photographs of her in thigh-high black leather boots and slinky blouse which showed off her gorgeous voluptuous breasts to their full advantage? Suddenly my finger pressed onto the bell and a sweet alluring voice beckoned me in from outside. And I was not to be disappointed!

"I'm here to do the interview," I stated, as my eyes had difficulty leaving the sight of the beautiful vision of feminine pulchritude that presently was standing adjacent to me.

Club: "You are known as the Supreme Goddess of Female Domination by many individuals and publications."

Candice: "Yes, I am a true Female Goddess—a supreme Female who is to be worshipped by her grateful subjects."

Club: "And those subjects voluntarily submit to you."

Candice: "Well, of course, this is a free country. They happen to feel a burning desire women as a playtoy for their enjoyment and for their servitude toward the ravishing female. I want to teach men to become more in touch with their submissive feelings and emotions. It's alright for them to cry. They must break down from the every day rigid pressure of being macho."

Club: "When most people think of S&M..."

Candice: "I am not involved with S&M. I am no sadist and the slaves that I see are not masochists."

Club: "So Female Domination isn't S&M?"

Candice: "Female Domination is women in their sexually superior physical and emotional natural position helping men to discover their sense of fulfillment and purpose. It is women using their strength of sexuality which was Goddess given to them."

Club: "This power you speak about, why haven't women realized this power?"

Candice: "Because unfortunately, for centuries women have been conditioned to believe that they are second class citizens. And especially their power of sexuality has been totally contained and repressed. Fearing that women might someday realize how powerful their natural essence of sexuality, the patriarchal leaders made certain that women would disregard the pleasures of their bodies. For instance, just the fact that the clitoris, an organ whose only function is pleasurable, was just recently discovered to be a useful organ for the female. Can you believe that there was no such thing as a clitoral orgasm? That is a sin!"

Club: "You do have a good point there. Getting back to S&M for a moment, I know you said that you were not into it, but you must derive some sort of satisfaction from, let's say, punishing some slave by paddling his ass?"

Candice: "I derive satisfaction from having the slave realize his true place under me, not from the fact that he is receiving pain. I feel good when I know that my slave has shown his true devotion to me. I prefer not to give my slave a great degree of pain. There are instances where slaves show their devotion to their Mistress by doing anything that the Mistress wishes which might include taking a large degree of pain through, let's say, a whipping. But at the same time the slave must have total trust in his Mistress."

Club: "Then the ultimate proof of devotion is the amount of pain a slave can endure from his Mistress?"

Candice: "No certainly not. The ultimate devotion is that the slave would do anything for her."

Club: "What kind of people come to see you?"

Candice: "I'm very selective about whom I see. I only see males who want to service and worship me and who share my belief in Female Supremacy. As I previously stated, I do not see masochists, but individuals who derive pleasure from pleasing me. As far as their educational or job status, I see all types of people ranging from doctors and lawyers to truck-drivers and teachers. Even a dancer or musician might come to serve me."

Club: "Can't most men go out and see a regular hooker and get his dominant fantasy fulfilled?"

Candice: "Of course he can. But for the most part the regular working girl treats this man as a kinky trick. She is into it for the money and does not really have the understanding or knowledge to train the real slave. In fact, she is servicing the john's demand, while when a slave sees me, he is servicing my demands. Also, I'm just sick and tired of how many people state that professional Dominants are just out to make a quick buck. There are many men out there who need our help, and because there really are not an abundant of expert Dominatrix's, a tribute for services is very necessary."

Club: "You deal in fetishes and many fantasies. Do you see if your slaves are really into their ideas or are just creating some far fetched fantasy?"

Candice: "I read them out as best as I possibly can and then subsequently will deal with their fantasy, if I am able to relate to their mental attitude. Their overt desire to service me has to be there."

Club: "What are your ways of training and orientating a slave to your domain?"

Candice: "Most importantly is through mind control - that being making the slave realize my power over him and his need to service me. From there our relationship may evolve into many different things."

Club: "Let's talk about fetishes and fantasies, could you briefly mention some of the most popular ones?"

Candice: "Well, of course, golden showers is a very common fantasy for many slaves and very enjoyable for myself. If I see that a slave is deserving of my holy golden blessing, then I will purify him with my golden champagne. It is something special that comes directly from my body. It can be a most sensual and erotic experience."

Another common fetish is the slave who is fascinated with feet and that which encases them such as high-heeled boots and shoes. The feet are a place of extreme sensation and power. For the true slave realizes that he

of particular outfits turn you on?"

Candice: "I love leather as you can see, but I also love lace or something silky to soften my look. Sometime just wearing French jeans and a low-cut blouse makes me feel ever so sexy."

Club: "Why is leather so predominant among Female Dominants?"

Candice: "There are a number of reasons. Leather has always been associated with being tough or strong. It gives the appearance of some sort of rebellious gang leader, as in motorcycle gangs. When women wear it, it gives more of a tough but sexy appearance. And don't forget there are many slaves who have extreme fetishes to service leather clad women."

Club: "If you don't mind me asking Candice, how long have you felt dominant and have you had slaves for a number of years?"

Candice: "I've always been very dominant. As a teenager I always felt there was something wrong in the way males treated females. I was very choosy with the men I dated. When I came to New York and began visiting the fetish clubs the idea of Female Domination became extremely natural for me. I began to understand the relationship to my feelings. As far as having slaves, they have been at my beck and call from the first time I entered a fetish club."

Club: "Candice you are one of the most recognizable Dominatrix's in the country. You've appeared on the Tom Snyder show and have written advice and action story columns on Female Domination and Gynsupremacy for over three years. Has that notoriety hindered or helped you in any way?"

Candice: "It has worked for and against me. By being a known figure many people have me stereotyped in a certain manner. For instance, they may think that I'm always giving out orders or being haughty. Also jealousy may take place amongst individuals in the scene. But at the same time, when a slave comes to serve me and realizes who I am, he is usually more in awe and respectful than he would be for just any Mistress."

Club: "Speaking of notoriety, you have been featured in a number of x-rated films portraying a real Female Dominant. In fact I have been told that you are the first woman to appear in several x-rated films without giving fellation or having sexual intercourse."

Candice: "Believe it or not, that is a true fact. And for that reason it has been extremely difficult getting work. Many producers are afraid of hiring me because they don't understand the realities of Female Domination. I hope that there will eventually be producers who realize that the adult film market is gradually changing and that there are many in the audience who are not turned on by seeing the woman being used as a piece of meat, while the final aim of a sex act is for the male to ejaculate. There are more and more females who want to enjoy a good erotic film and would also like to see the woman receiving pleasure."

Club: "You mentioned that women have been abused both mentally and physically in our society. How do you feel about dominating other women?"

belongs under my boot."

Club: "It seems to me that the fantasy of dressing up in female clothing or being a transvestite is extremely popular. What are your thoughts on TVS?"

Candice: "I enjoy most TVS. They seem to truly worship the woman and desire to be like her, even if just for a short while. Look how nice it is to have silky clothing against the skin," as she ruffled her blouse against her body, demonstrating this fine point. "Why shouldn't men experience that?"

Club: "Would you consider yourself a women's libber?"

Candice: "No, not really. Women's Lib was necessary over a decade ago, but at the same time they missed an important point. They continued to disregard women's sensuality and power of eros. In fact they continued to repress it. But I'm glad to see that women once again are finding themselves, coming back to dress in sexy outfits and using their key of sensuality more and more."

Club: "Talking about sexy clothes, what kind

Candice: "I'd rather they'd be submissive to me rather than a male dominant, but I hope eventually, the submissive women will turn dominant. I've seen this on many occasions and am encouraged."

Club: "I gather that you don't particularly condone any sort of male domination over women?"

Candice: "There's too much of that phenomena in our daily lives."

Club: "Would you ever consider playing the submissive role?"

Candice: "No, I definitely would not feel comfortable in that role."

Club: "Is it difficult differentiating your personal life from your private life?"

Candice: "Very hard at times. I always believe in Female Supremacy, but I'm not always the Mistress. Being a dominant will always be a part of me, but I have other beliefs and ways of being. It helps that my lover is also a believer in Female Supremacy and a personal slave of mine."

Club: "Of your friends, are most of them involved in the scene?"

Candice: "I have many friends who are Dominants, but I also have many other friends who are involved in all walks of life. I am interested in real people, no matter what they do for a living."

Club: "Do you attempt to implore your philosophies on friends who are not into the B&D scene?"

Candice: "Not necessarily, though all of my friends are curious about what I do. I'm happy to explain to them about my actions and beliefs if they ask."

Club: "Candice, finally what advice can you give to the readers who might be extremely interested in getting into Female Domination."

Candice: "Read all that you can on the subject from reliable sources. Talk to people who are knowledgeable. Maybe view some videos. When you finally take the step, be sure the person you share this experience with is aware of what she is doing. For example, a whip in the hand of a crazy or inexperienced person can land on the wrong areas and harm you seriously for quite some time. Shackles and handcuffs and other implements commonly used in B&D may be dangerous if not used properly."

Club: "You know you are a really intelligent and beautiful woman. Besides looking exceptionally sexy and attractive. Do you only accept dates with slaves?"

Candice: "Why don't you get on your knees and we'll talk about it." ☺

CHRISTA

Sugar, spice – everything nice, certainly fits this sensual 'though demure spun sugar candy miss. Not blatant in any way, her erotic key is almost hidden. Have you found it? We weren't at all surprised to hear Christa tell us that she needs her button stimulated, played with in all imaginative ways, until she comes two or three times before she can "settle down" and get into a mutually satisfying, sexual encounter. Partners never seem to mind the selfish attitude – quite the contrary. Her hard knob is really a turn on and guys love pillaging her very inviting, protruding mini cock as its color deepens and it swells even more! The multiple orgasms are more than enough to satisfy everyone! After Christa's fevered pitch is quelled and her mood and body are warm and wonderful, she's all give and no take. She revels in reciprocating, giving mutually heightened pleasures to far surpass her partner's erotic, titillating desires and anticipation. This nymphet loves cock – loves the way with just a mere butterfly kiss or the wisp of a feather it starts to respond triggering a catenation of often bizarre counterbalances which always lead to exciting hours of sexual interchange.

Often humping her partner brings out the spirited cry, "fuck me, baby," and our miss quickly admits fantasizing doing just that, and that her cock can give pleasure as it pummels down into the abyss of his cunt or asshole. Jisms fly as exploding climaxes are reached and mind games are interrupted – back to reality, as his long and hard pole satisfies their lustful demands over and over. Christa believes that thinking the male has to be the leader in all sexual relationships is wrong. "Some guys simply can't cope with the pressure this puts on them and often causes the breakup of an otherwise very good arrangement. Besides I genuinely enjoy the lead role sometimes. If I'm in control, I can tell the guy that my demands are high and that he'll have to take a pretty severe whipping of his balls in return for my favors. Sometimes, of course, this doesn't work, but a girl can't be blamed for trying! Many seem to regard their balls as being sacred and believe that no girl will actually do it, but I do and it often improves the guy's erection!" ☺

Walloping understated looks have always been BMW's hallmark. The performance may be flashy, but the styling is discreet. When the particular BMW concerned is of the extraordinary caliber of the Alpina B9 3.5, it seems rather a shame that the car does not command greater presence on the road.

It deserves to. I could count on one hand – looks apart – the cars which I have driven during the last decade and enjoyed so much for their enormous all-around competence and driving satisfaction.

This is platinum class motoring, offering simply breathtaking performance, handling, cornering powers, ride and overall refinement. Drop the clutch in a hurry, and the car takes off with road-scrunching energy, like a leopard unleashed. The 0-60 takeoff time of fractionally under 6½ seconds tells you on paper that this is scorching acceleration. The feel of the car as it blasts away emphatically underlines it.

Aerodynamic additions to the bodywork are a deep nose spoiler wrapping around under the front bumper and a trunk lid spoiler at the rear. Distinctive gold coachlining is used on the body sides and front spoiler to identify the Alpina conversion.

BMW claim a top speed of 145 miles per hour. Unlike the eager claims of rival manufacturers, it is not optimistic. One respected German motor magazine has independently tested it at 152 mph, so the maker's own flat out speed claim is clearly on.

The B9 is a conversion based on the BMW 528i, as translated into a dramatically uprated motor car by the famed German tuning company who have specialized in "breathing" on BMWs for the past 15 years.

Alpina trained staff, using an imported "kit" of components, transform the car and also fit re-upholstered rear seats to match new front ones specially supplied by Alpina.

The engine is a 3.5 liter, 3453 cc unit similar to that used in the 635i and 735i BMWs, but with larger intake valves, a gas-flowed head, and increased compression ratio. The power output is 218 bhp. The gearbox is five-speed with top effectively an overdrive ratio. The price of the finished car is $35,260, compared with $20,500 for a standard 528i.

Chassis tuning specified by Alpina includes stiffer springs all around and Bilstein dampers at the rear. A limited-slip differential is also included in the package.

BMW's are well-known for their rear end drift tendency, a characteristic which is less pronounced on more recent models, but for which otherwise high caliber driving manners have frequently been criticized.

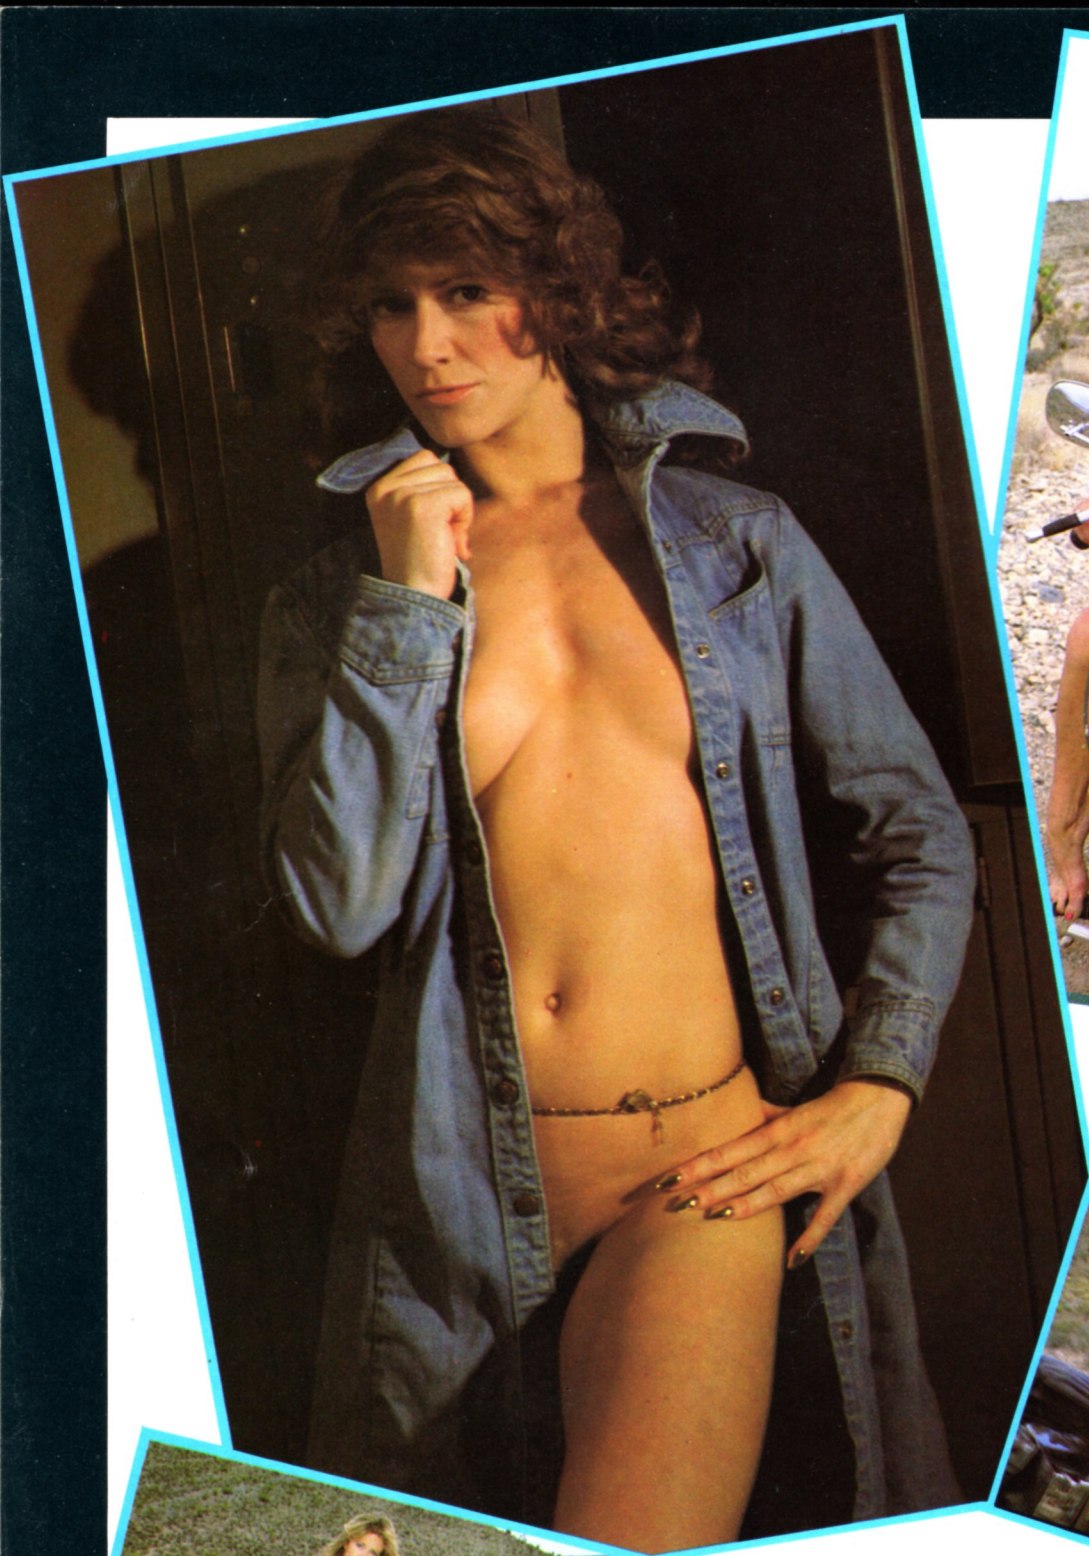

The Alpina B9 is significantly improved in that respect. The tuning company's suspension tweaks, choice of Pirelli P7s on special wheels - narrower at the front than at the rear - and use of spoilers, all combine to hold the back end much more stable than is traditional to the BMW range.

It was without doubt the best handling feel on the road of any BMW I have yet experienced, apart from the infinitely more rarefied M1. It is a superbly controlled car, gloriously stable and predictable, with enormously high cornering powers. Pure joy to drive, in fact.

Understatement may be BMW's style, but the Bavarian company has driven as far as it has room to go in one particular cul-de-sac of body styling. It needs a fresher look. Interestingly, their styling chief is now Martin Smith, the British-born designer of much admired talent who has been head-hunted by BMW from his former job as head of Audi styling.

He was the man largely responsible for the look of the Audi Quattro and Coupé. In another three or four years, his fresh thinking should be starting to filter through into new BMW models appearing in the showrooms. And not before time. □

of the month

Suddenly snowed under with sex-crazed Swingers, Club now proposes to feature as many amorous Americans as page space allows. So shed those inhibitions, shed those silk panties, and get the man in your life hard at work with his camera – preferably a Polaroid or Kodak Instant Print model (unless he happens to be a devil in the darkroom!). Also, try to include a little “bedroom bio.” You know the sort of thing: “My name’s Greta, 54-56-58, and at 89, I’m the grooviest Grandma in Greensboro. I’m a receptionist at the local Swingers club and I’m kinky about older men.” Pictures should be as frank as possible, but preferably NOT depicting a screaming yellow bomb-burst across your pretty privates, NOT the most attractive spectacle! Club guarantees ALL entries will be published.

Fiona Press Inc.,

Connecticut 06470.

Let's hear from you along with your photos and signed release. No handling fee necessary. Mail to Swinger of the Month, c/o Fiona Press, Inc., at the address given above.

Arlene, veterinarian, Basalt, Colorado (opposite page). Shares life with a real kinky guy. Both are into bestiality. Her pets are a German shepherd and a faithful retriever which can satisfy any of her sexual needs.
Dolores, choreographer, Staten Island, NY (this page). Loves all forms of erotica and views sensual dance as an art form and means of communicating. Welcomes being photographed here by hubby.

Swingers

Edith, air traffic controller, Dallas, Texas (this page). Travels extensively whenever and to wherever unusual opportunities arise. Will try anything and emphasizes the more harrowing and exotic, the better.

Elinor, registered nurse, Sturgis, Michigan (this page). Married and the mother of three. Enjoys all family centered activities, but always reserves special private times with photographer husband, Robert. In addition to photography, cooking, dancing, skiing, mountain climbing, and selective swing clubs keep this very together couple going. ☺

Feels' on Reels

The X-Rated movie has now become one of America's leading contributions to cinematic art. Some are great, some would insult the intelligence of a fieldmouse. In this new series, Club sets out to separate the good from the bad in a thoughtful, adult manner. Let this be your guide to a connoisseur's life of porno on the silver screen.

THE GIRL FROM S.E.X.

This slaphappy spy spoof stars lusty Lisa De Leeuw as Agent 38-DD. The Girl from S.E.X. in a fuck filled adventure that pits the delectable Ms. De Leeuw against the sinister forces of A.S.S. — a confrontation guaranteed to produce pointed peckers and taut trousers. While the story may slide to the ridiculous side, the sex is probing and prominent, as Agent 38-DD gets to the bottom of another fiendish plot to rule the world by going undercover in a high class whorehouse and putting her tawdry talents to the ultimate test. Naturally this super seductress soon has the drop on her ruthless opponents, who end up on the receiving end of the atomic powered dildo they planned to use on 33-DD. Firmly in the driver's seat, outfitted in leather and with the nuclear dildo strapped about her hips, The Girl From S.E.X. drives home the point with a vengeance, as she defeats her enemies and gets her jollies all at the same time. Ridiculous as it may be, you'll enjoy the enlistment.

PRIVATE PLEASURES OF A WOMAN

2 (Photos 5-7)
Everybody wants to know what turns women on, and this sexy video features a bevy of European beauties licking and loving each other as they meticulously detail all the naughty things that turn them on and get them off. Confessing to a myriad of muffy variations on the same theme, stars Adrienne Plushette, Jill Flaxon and Julie Duree rush tongue first and legs akimbo from orgasm to orgasm, searching for solitary, as well as girl-girl ecstasy with an enthusiasm for amour that's hard to contain. There's also an occasional male, obviously being used for his body, to help the girls along on their journey to total fulfillment. Private Pleasures Of A Woman is a bit one dimensional, but then again, that may be a dimension some pornophiles prefer.

MAXIMUM VIDEOS
Volume 3:
CANDY'S BEDTIME STORY

3 (Photos 8-11)
Big bust fans are sure to pop a cork when they get an eyeful of the legendary Candy Samples in this cute, ooze filled video that prominently features two of the Western World's most monumental mammaries in breathtakingly uninhibited action. It is Ms. Samples ample good fortune to be possessed of two utter stupendous breasts, and, suffice to say, she makes Dolly Parton look a lot like Twiggy. Candy's 56 inch jugs are as supple and self-supporting as you've ever seen. The fun begins in bed as Candy and her equally large boyfriend wind up another session of the old in-out with a fairytale about a famous Italian director and a big busted actress from America. The fairytale naturally comes to life and Candy is soon on her back, auditioning for the director, who, as an aficionado of gigantic jugs, leaves a token of his deep esteem between Candy's twin Everests. After this torrid interlude we return to Candy and her boyfriend in bed, where, stimulated by the climax of the bedtime story, the copulation crazed couple begins the basic anew. A simple straightforward sexy story, with some elements that are a lot larger than life!

MAXIMUM VIDEOS
Volume 4: THE
PEEPING TOM/ TRIPLE PLAY

4 (Photos 12-18)
Maximum Video Volume 4 consists of two vignettes, The Peeping Tom and Triple Play. The Peeping Tom stars some dual newcomers, chesty Mona Page and a blonde beauty named Callie Ames who seems to like her work, which in this case consists of some furious fucking on a pool table as well as the usual oral calisthenics. The story is a thin, steamy slice of the southern California satyricon, in which one couple is turned on by the other's amorous antics, which, unbeknown to them, are being watched by the first couple, played by Eric Edwards and raven haired Mona Page. Turned on by Wendy (Callie Ames) and Chuck's (Marc Wallace) pool-side antics, Lon (Edwards) ends up taking snapshots of the couple as they copulate on a billiard table while his wife tries to entice him back to bed with a daring negligee. Triple Play features statuesque Bridgette Monet and Marlene Minx as two baseball groupies who hide-out in a famous ballplayer's hotel room, hoping for a little fungo session. The girls have to play with themselves for a little while, but soon the big slugger comes back and gives these ladies a string of home runs. Simple but effective.

Ball Games

Sir: In the August 1982 Communication there was a fine letter from Ms Vane Zentner called "Paying the Price." In it she said "nothing excites me more than playing cruel games with men's balls," and she described her special scourge with knotted lashes (only six inches long) for punishing the testicles, and how this improves guys' erections.

As a guy who has experienced this with my ex-wife, I have to agree with Ms Zentner, though it hurts like blazing hell when my ex whips my balls, my erections do become throbbing hard and my staying power increases ten times over. She knows how to balance the pain with the ecstasy and keep me hard for long periods. I've learned to live with the pain - to welcome it - and the agony and degradation of having my sacred, inviolate balls tortured by my ex and two of her divorced lady friends is sheer bliss.

I used to try to cover up my balls, but the cruel ladies soon stopped this by binding my arms and suspending me with my thighs spread. I surrender myself totally to these sadistic bitches and will do anything to give them their jollies. I drink their piss and eat their shit while I'm having my balls whipped. My ex also has scrotum clamps and urethral electrode probes to bring variety to the games. Although I'm divorced from Helga I'm still her slave and she puts me in very degrading situations. She arranges masturbation parties where I have to perform with up to twenty fully clothed women watching and mocking me before I get my balls whipped. Yes, Vane Zentner certainly knows the score. I wish she would come and torture my balls.

H.B.,

Greensburg, PA

But what could she do that your ex and her friends can't?

Domination Delights

Sir: A copy of Club magazine was recently given me (August 1982 issue) and I find that I fully agree with the comments made in Communication, especially by Ms Steele and Ms Jennings. I am a semi-pro dominatrix in my mid-twenties, better than good-looking, and with a superb body (40-22-38) that I like to flaunt in front of my many male slaves.

Although my technique is not yet so elaborate as Ms Steele's, I do use my urine to humiliate and place fear in my slave's mind. To see the agony and the realization of shock, horror, terror and despair come over a guy's face is a super turn-on for me. I have much equipment, including an operating table, rack, and suspension tackle. I insist on a guy's placing his life in my hands and it's really wonderful to have a slave spread-eagled naked and to make fearsome threats regarding what I am going to do to him. I straddle him and ride his cock as I gaze into his terror-stricken face, but the more I threaten, the harder he gets. I use his knob against my clit to give me an orgasm or two, but he's never allowed to sheathe his prick into my cunt at this early stage. He has a whole lot of suffering to endure - and even more anxiety! - before I grant him that privilege.

I make it my business to find out about my slave in advance, and if he especially hates something, then I will concentrate on his getting plenty of just that. In fact, I will work on him until he's begging me to do the very thing he hates most. What a lovely sense of power I get from that! You can imagine my telling a guy who detests urine drinking that he will soon be imploping me to piss down his throat. I am heavily into all kinds of genital torment and have a fine array of instruments, cock-and-ball bondage gimmicks, catheters, glans pins, spiked scrota gloves, electrode probes - you name it.

The facial expressions of those guys as they suffer and as I threaten them with infinitely worse - oh gracious! - it makes me juice just to think about them. Those guys get so that they will promise me the moon, but I never really take full advantage of my great power over men. I like to tweak a guy's nipples and finger his asshole, just to show him that his body belongs to me - in its entirety. It is my toy and I can destroy it if I wish - destroy it in any one of ten thousand grotesque ways. I describe some of the ways to the slave as I torment his cluster. Oh, what erections I make them get! And what stupendous ejaculations! Making sure his prick is truly hard, I eventually straddle my slave and fuck his eyeballs out. As I sense him about to come, I raise my pussy so that the lips grab his knob, and in this position I drain him to the dregs, even squeezing his nuts to extract the last globules of jism.

Then comes the pay-off. To show my slave just how helpless he is, I straddle his face and make him lick out his come. I then urinate into his mouth. When a guy's shot his wad he really finds this hard to take, yet he has no option. I agree with Ms Jennings: society is weird, what with wars and nuclear bombs, yet frowning on the needs of most of the male population. I have had men beg me to shit them to death, and I know they have been sincere. This is too far for me, yet I can understand the desire. My own desires, although complementary, are often equally strong.

Helena Y.,
Tampa, Florida

Magnificent Maturity

Sir: Club is a fine magazine and your girls are among the best looking and best photographed. However, I do wish you would feature at least one mature female in each issue: a lady in her 40's (maybe even her 50's) with a magnificently developed and well preserved body and a face of character that shows she knows all about those secret avenues of sexual indulgence that it really needs the experience of age to appreciate fully. All too often when a young girl is dressed in kinky garb it's painfully obvious from her face that she doesn't know what it's really all about, whereas a woman in her middle-age usually carries total conviction in the area of the bizarre.

Newport, Pennsylvania

Marilyn Rhapsody

Sir: Marilyn Chambers sure knows how to strike a pose. That rear shot of her in the September Club (page 45) displays her flaming charms in gorgeously obscene grandeur. I could dive in nose first and swim around her ent- trails.

Beside La Chambers all others seem pale. No doubt she is the Queen of Porn, the pose, the animalistic abandon, the athletic vitality, the smooth musky anus recessed between firm buns, the nude vagina: all these hint of joyful gyrations that send shivers through my loins.

A look of lusty longing lights her face; its sly inviting hazel eyes, long handsome facial planes, challenging sensuous mouth of rare and lovely shape, that hungry feline gaze; these elements form a collage of eroticism crowned by a cascade of windblown tawny mane.

Marilyn is a sexually liberated woman, and should I die tomorrow I would wish my ashes to fill a Ben-Wa egg and then by her own hand be shoved deep up her ass. Then I would be truly hers.

N. Nikral,
Alexandria, VA

Slapstick Sex

Sir: I really love Club. All those sexy and beautiful girls keep me stiff from month to month. There is one situation I have always wanted to see in your magazine. I would truly love to see a couple of sexy ladies in one of your well-done pictorials dressed in a little bit of silky lingerie, stockings and heels, getting into an extremely messy and creamy pie fight. A sexy slapstick scene like this would be a great turn-on. It would be funny and erotic at the same time. Watching them smearing pies all over each other's silky asses, pussies and tits would get me going. The late Ernie Kovacs believed, as I do, that hitting a pretty, elegantly dressed lady in the face with a cream pie was by far the funniest and horniest sight in showbiz. How about it?

G.P.,

Winchester, VA

You can't have been taking Club all that regularly. We've done better than cream pies; we've featured nude mud wrestling!

Perfection of Pussy

Sir: Blondes do not usually turn me on, but you have recently hit me with a double whammy, for Seka has the most kissable, lickable, suckable, eatable cunt I have ever seen. I am 51 years old and the term "dirty old man" fits me to a T; in fact, I wear it like a badge. I have been athletic all my life: football, track, baseball, swimming, and the number one sport, sex. I have sucked and eaten thousands of pussies and assholes. A really prolonged meal of cunt and asshole is heaven on earth, and I would dearly like to service Seka's perfect pussy. Let me tell you how I would show Seka what a supreme oralist I am:

I would start at one knee, wetly kissing, licking and biting up her soft thigh to the crease of her junction, saturating her divine flesh with my saliva. Then I would repeat everything up the other thigh. I would spend time drying areas of her wet flesh with my breath, wetting it again, then blowing it dry again. I would hold her pussy wide open and start licking at the very lowest part of her cunt, alternating with butterfly kisses and swift darts of my tongue up her asshole. Then I would kiss the luscious lips; first the outer petals, then the inner ones. I would glue my mouth over her inner labia and suck the air out of her vagina, then I would flick my tongue over her clit for a split second, making her gasp with sudden stabs of ecstasy. She would drench my face with her warm honey, some of which I would use on my tongue to penetrate deeper up her asshole each time I ventured into that delightful orifice. I would keep the treatment up for hours, taking orders from her: "faster, slower, harder, deeper, FUCK ME!" I may not look like Robert Redford, Paul Newman or Burt Reynolds, but I surely can deliver the oral goods. A guy does not have to be young, hung heavy or even good-looking to give a girl the orgasm of her life. I am now going to the john to beat off to some pics of Seka. I shall saturate her gorgeous pussy with my sperm.

Jack K.,
Scottdale, Georgia

Something of a come-down after what you've been describing, Jack! Seka says she'd prefer more attention to her clit and less to her asshole. She likes it sucked up high and proud and treated like a miniature cock.

Ass Crazy

Sir: I buy Club because your art people know the power of the female ass and print plenty of ball-busting shots of the asshole. I am a 23-year-old WASP who is crazy about asses. Girls' asses are all I think about and jerk off to. Given the chance I would become the ass-sucking champion of the world. I can keep my lips glued around a tasty asshole and my tongue right up the passage for hours at a stretch. I am quite prepared to suck ass for days and nights without a break if that's what it takes to become World Champ. I'm prepared to do that anyway, contest or no contest. I pick out the best asses from Club and practice on them until the paper turns to mush. Then I eat the mush as I jerk out my come.

Tim J.,
Denver, Colorado
How does the flavor of Club paper compare with the real McCoy?

upremely sexy Seka is still in high gear after last month's private dirty picture collection competition. She's unruffled by the bizarre challenges from our insatiable readers, and just to prove it she's cumming thru for you with this series of great pictures to stiffen your cock and make your cream flow. Our photographer has captured many of Seka's sensuous and various moods of sexual freedom. With a satin box like hers, beautifully rounded derriere and those absolutely taunting breasts beneath Seka's beguiling and sensitive face, it's easy to see why she's the darling of America's X-rated cinema.

We asked her how the competition is going and how excited she is by the responses. Seka can't imagine why she had not thought of this idea before. It's a blast and she's loving every titillating minute of it. We asked her honestly if there had been any erotic requests she couldn't deliver and so far she admits to there being only two which she couldn't dare at the risk of bodily harm. Oh no!

Seka loves reading all the lustful letters and quickly gets turned on to their outrageous demands. Then her own lewd desires take over demanding a vein-popping dreamstick between her breasts.

But for those who missed last month's issue, back to the steamy details of our contest. You can direct your own autographed, personalized instant pictures of Seka . . . the ones that pop out of the camera when you press the button. Rush the suggestions off to Seka's Instant Picture Contest, PO Box 12000, Westport, CT 06880 and we'll decide who's the winner. If you're keen to have Seka pose for your own personal picture, as you've described it, send $7.50 for one picture and only $39.95 for a set of six. Add $1.45 postage and handling. She'll snap the pictures and send them off to you with her own personal autograph.

You don't have to buy anything to enter the contest and the prize is a superb semi-professional color TV camera and videorecorder. Just imagine the fun you can have with the girl next door. Set the camera up, invite her around for a drink and let the thing roll. ☺
